

Dear fellow students, my name is Pascal Cloutier, and I am here to tell you the truth.

I am not here to beg you to vote for me, or to lie about how great of a school president I would make.

I am going to tell you about the "associated student body" or ASB.

First of all, ASB has no real power. ASB is not a governing body like the Congress, its president is not a real president. They are just puppets of the teachers.

They say that they represent us, they say that they try and make the school a better place; however, the truth is that they don't.

They make us play games, they run assemblies meant to distract us, and they do everything in their power to divide the common students and turn us against each other.

They do nothing to help us, they do not stand up for the student body: instead, they do everything in their power to divide and destroy us.

Why am I telling you all of this? Because I think it is time that we, the students, stood up for ourselves!

It is time for us to cast off the shackles of lies and oppression! Comrades, it is time for us to get rid of ASB!

Now some of you are thinking right now, and I know you are, especially you I.B. Kids. You're thinking, "why should I disagree with the teachers? They are here to help us, right?"

NO! They are not! They are not here to help us!

The teachers think this is THEIR school! They think that this school was built for THEM!

This school was Not built for the teachers! This school was built for the students! The teachers should be doing everything in their power to make this school better for us! But instead they try and have us do everything to make this school better for them!

This is what ASB is for! They want us to make this school better for the teachers!

Fellow students, it is time to stand up! Say NO to ASB! Say NO to teachers who want to control and destroy our minds!

Do not vote today! Do not vote for president, vice president, secretary treasurer! If you vote at all you are voting for your own death and destruction!

It doesn't matter if you think a person is a good candidate, a close friend; if they are running for ASB then they are your enemy!

So to my fellow students, Do not vote, do not let the enemy win today!

To my fellow candidates: if you have seen the light of truth, if you have felt its warmth; then drop out. Do not run anymore, because if you do, you are running against every student.

Again, my name is Pascal Cloutier, and I am NOT running for ASB president.
